From the Crown

Their Most Royal Majesties, Artan the Fourth and Aziza, by right of arms and by grace and favor King and Queen of the Outlands and Dread Lord and Lady of Argonia, send greetings and tidings of War unto the good and brave populace of the Outlands in this month of September in the ninth year of the Sovereignty of the Outlands.

Good Gentles and Nobles,

We hope that this missive finds you all well and safe and prospering in Our fair Outlands.

Congratulations to Our newest Champion of the Arts and Sciences. Lady Rashiqah of the Barony of Unser Hafen was victorious at the Kingdom A & S Competition, and We encourage everyone who has not yet been able, to take the time to meet her and see her work as it is excellent. Congratulations as well to all of the other entrants in the competition. The works presented there were grand and Her Majesty was very impressed by them all. Thank you to the Shire of White Mountain, the autocrat Lord Tore, and Mistress Liobsynde who all did a superb job on the most difficult of events to run.

We have heard some most disturbing rumors about Our neighbors to the west, the ancient Kingdom of the Aten. We have heard that they mean to exact revenge for the sound drubbing we gave them at the OUTLANDS-aten war, and although it pains us greatly to have to call Our forces to war, We have sworn to protect Our lands from all foes and enemies; and to that end We declare that Outlands shall be on war footing from now on. We call upon all Knights and Squires, all Defenders of the Stag's Blood, all Laurels and Pelicans and all others who serve Our Outlands army, to begin to prepare for the upcoming conflict. It is Our vision that for the first time the Outlands shall fight as a completely national army, with each fighter wearing the Kingdom's colors. To this end we hope to be able to provide for Our fighting troops tabards bearing the kingdom ensign, that all might see the might and glory of Our realm. As of this writing the Kingdom will pay for the tabards to be silk-screened and we will then make kits that need to be sewn together and send these to individual groups to be finished. We will probably either sell the tabards to individuals for what they cost or give them away and ask for donations to help pay for them. We will have more details about the cost in the October Outlandish Herald.

We also have created a War Council to plan Our strategies and set up the war scenarios at Estrella, which We hope to ratify by treaty at the Baron's War in October in the Principality of the Sun. The War Council shall consist of eight members, The Earl Marshall who shall chair the council, the General of the Army, the Warlord, and a representative selected by each of the five baronies.

We have appointed His Excellency, Viscount Stefan of the Wanderers, as the General of the Outlands Army, Our Warlord, Minimoto no Akira-san shall be the chief coordinator of the forces of the Northern shires and Baronies. Each of the Baronies has appointed someone to represent their regions on the council, so We will have a voice from every end of the Kingdom on the War Council.

We also want to thank everyone who traveled to Pennsic, especially Lord Jalut who provided transportation for the Kingdom regalia. Thanks for being there for Us and making the Outlands look good in front of the world.

If you have questions or concerns about any of this (especially about the tabards) please contact Us or Our seneschal, Master Lambert and We will be glad to answer your questions.

Please know that we remain in service to these Wondrous Outlands,

Artan IIII Aziza

Newcomers will be especially pleased to attend this event. Ask questions on every aspect of the tournament, court, feast, and/or revel and find immediate answers from the experienced participants.

Duke John the Bearkiller and his lady, Countess Falada, two noble Pelicans of the Kingdom of Meridies, will be our honored guests on September 17. We have planned a full Saturday of tournament, court and feast, but with a difference—the entire day is a workshop, in which various aspects of a tournament are explained (armor inspection, lists, heralding, marshaling, strategy, honor, field-side courtesy), hall set-up and feast preparation are revealed and discussed, the court is annotated for the benefit of our guests, etc. It will be fun, and a unique way to learn more about the Outlands (and Meridies) than most people now know.

There will be a prize tournament (heavy weapons) in which John the Bearkiller will enter. Each entrant must furnish at least one prize (site restrictions don't allow it to be liquor). At the conclusion of the tournament, entrants will choose prizes from the horde, in the order in which they placed in the tournament. Therefore, it doesn't matter that some prizes will be worth more than others; a small prize is sufficient. Any extra prizes will be offered to those who have worked hardest at the event, as thank-you gifts.

The event will begin at 9:00 a.m. at the 4-H Park across from the 4-H Building located at 1500 Menaul, in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Another group is having a soccer game on the north end of the field sometime during the day. We'll set the tournament up on the south end. Lunch will be served at tourney-side, and the feast will be held in the 4-H building. Following the feast and entertainment, people will have an opportunity to ask John Fulton, a member of the SCA's Board of Directors and our kingdom's ombudsman (as Duke John is mundanely) questions about the corporation and the board of directors, which will finish out the day's activities. Clean-up will begin at 11:00; we must be out by midnight.

THIS SITE IS BONE DRY! NO LIQUOR IS ALLOWED AT THIS EVENT!

The event fee is $10.00 for any part of the day. If you enter the site and lay eyes upon His Grace and Her Excellency, you got your money's worth. (Non-members must pay $3 extra for this great privilege.) After that the rest of the event is free, including lunch, the feast and the presence of other notable out-of-town guests. In honor of Daniel, the Baby Bearkiller, anyone under the age of 16 will be welcomed in with no site fee. For more information contact the autocrat or one of the other persons listed.

Peanut Festival Demo & Prize Tourney

October 22

Come join Scorpions Hollow on the beautiful campus of Eastern New Mexico University for a day of fun. Every year, literally hundreds of non-SCA people drive hundreds of miles to Portales New Mexico. They do so to attend the annual Peanut Valley Festival. Basically this is a craft fair where people buy and sell just about everything. Last year we joined the event and really had a good time. This year we decided to make it a full day instead of just a demo. Bring your friends!

Currently, we have scheduled two heavy weapons tourneys, two light weapons tourneys, a drumming competition, and a Middle Eastern dance competition. There will also be an Arts & Sciences display. And, as our Grand Finale for the day, we will have several melees. There will be prizes for all tourneys and competitions. After the day's events, there will be a revel, wet as ever, held during the evening.

Although the festival is a modernly organized event, it is very enjoyable and exciting. There will be no site fee. Huzzah! All we ask is that you bring your persona with you. Merchants are more than welcome, but will have to register with the festival organizers ahead of time. For more information, details, or crash space, contact the autocrat.

There will be a variety of contests (with wonderful prizes) held throughout the event including: Best Costume from an early period–male/female & from a late period–male/female; Best Overall Costume using theme colors; Best Holiday Table Setting; Most Creative Wrapped Gift (part of the gift exchange), Best Entertainer(s), and many more still to be announced.

Merchants are most heartily encouraged to come and display their wares, and accept commissions, however actual sales are not permitted. The hall is wet, but all alcohol must be purchased from the site vendor. Volunteers for just about everything are still much needed, especially servers (who will feast well for half the price).

We encourage you to bring your children, family, and friends. There will be plenty of activities for all to enjoy. If you have some time to share in the preparations of this grand event, comments, questions, or are in need of further information; contact us at your convenience, as we are humbly at your service:

Caerthen Twelfth Night

January 7, 1995

Lavender and Lace/A Cavalier Winter Dream

Let all good gentles gather together to celebrate the joys of the Winter Season at Twelfth Night in Caerthe on Saturday January 7, 1995, at the Jefferson County Fairgrounds in Golden, Colorado. The day's schedule will be simplified from some of the previous years and will center on the feast, socializing and court. Peer's circles will be held on Sunday, at the discretion of the Crown. A delectable 17th Century feast is being planned by the good Don Alexandre Lerot d'Avigne and Lady Bridgit O'Breslin. I am pleased to announce that one of Caerthe's premier feast autocrats, Mistress Ursula d'Arcy, will be visiting from the East Kingdom. Mistress Ursula, along with Lord Aleyn James Douglas, another of our fine autocrats, will be heads of our Kitchen Crew at the event. The feast will be served both Above and Below the Salt—what this means is that there will be a dual price structure for the feast, with those Above the Salt being served additional dishes. Some of the items to be included are: roast capons, mutton pie, roast beef with wine sauce, spinach pie, game hens, rabbit pie & custards. Off board seating will be available.

Prices: Below the salt $11.50/Site & Feast until 9/30/94. No Below the Salt feasts will be available after that date. Above the Salt $17.50/Site&Feast until 10/31/94; $20.50 until 11/30/94. No feast reservations available after this date. Site fee only: $6.50 in advance; $10.00 at the door. Children under six are free; for ages 6-12 one free with each paid adult; additional children 6-12 are half price. A $3.00 surcharge will be assessed for non-members. All are encouraged to send in their reservations early to: Johann of the Northern Moors (Brian Morman), 4725 West Quincy Ave #1513, Denver CO 80235. Please make all checks payable to SCA–Caerthe.

Please contact the autocrat to volunteer or for any other needed information, questions or ideas.

Autocrat: Morrigan di Winter (303) 940-0746

By Lady Emma of Essex & Countess Elisheva, with help from a few friends

Thank You, Outlanders!

In June when I became Executive Director I asked local groups in the Outlands to consider helping financially so the Outlands could provide food following the July 23 Board meeting in Caerthe. There were over 100 people at the revel, from eleven different kingdoms (counting board members) and all could eat their fill thanks to you. No one had to pay $25, nor wait outside for a banquet to end. Our Beneficent King and Queen, and Lord Johann, the kingdom treasurer, had agreed to pay as much as half of the cost of this food, but kingdom coffers provided less than $100 thanks to your generosity. In days to come, may such kindness be returned to you many times.

FROM THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Unto the Membership of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc.
From Randall Tatro, Chairman, on behalf of the Board of Directors
Friends,

First, the Board wishes to apologize for any confusion, pain, or misunderstanding caused by its actions over the last seven months. It was never our intent to cause grief to the membership. It was, and is, our hope to represent the Society so that growth continues, and that we all can participate in an organization that is fun and as safe as possible.

Many of the recent Board decisions were fueled by money problems and the sincere desire to upgrade and improve services. The cash reserves the Society held had dwindled over the last three years or so. One of the main causes was a sudden loss of funds in 1990-1991 which was not immediately discovered. The Board put off improvements and changes it thought were needed to ensure that the reserve loss would not be crippling to the organization. More importantly, over the past two years it had become apparent to the Board of Directors that the SCA had grown to the point where the existing infrastructure seemed unable to support continuing growth. Rather than limit the number of kingdoms, etc., or continue to watch rapid burnout of kingdom and corporate officers, the board attempted to devise and implement a corporate infrastructure which would support a continually growing medieval world. So.... a large increase in the budget was passed to handle items like:

1) A full-time (salaried) executive director.
2) Legal fees to cover review of the SCA's operating documents and suggestions on ways to improve them or discover possible legal problems.
3) A bookkeeper and accounting service.
4) A new computer system.
5) Improvements in the corporate office (furniture and a new staff position).
6) Increases in standard budget items to reflect a hoped-for growth.

An accounting of budget and related items is being worked on. Under normal circumstances, it would be a primary subject to present, but resignations and other problems that have arisen lately have slowed the process down. It will be done. In the future the Board plans to use financially capable individuals in the Society, not just Board members and corporate officers, to assist in the creation and presentation of the budget.

The budget increases and other decisions were made with an eye on improving the quality of service to the membership and helping the corporate structure professionalize itself.

This did not happen as planned.

What did happen was a classic example of a snafu caused by trying to do too many things in too short a time. The decisions were not explained adequately, and there was too little dialogue with the membership before the changes were made. This will not happen in such a manner again. In the future, major decisions which affect the membership will be floated out for comment. If an emergency arises (and those should be very rare) where a quick decision may have to be made, the membership will be informed as promptly as possible. The Board is considering adopting procedures at the October meeting which would give the kingdoms a minimum of 60 days to prepare for changes which come from the corporate level.

The Interkingdom Advisory Council is almost on its feet and will be studying ways to improve Corpora and the medieval structure. Guidelines for the Grand Council are being finalized so that a review can be made of our entire organization and how it should look in the future. Other changes, such as offering the approved board minutes to the membership, are also coming.

The SCA is a large, diverse group with a common love of study, research, and enjoyable re-enactment of the Middle Ages. Our shared interests make the continuance of our organization a worthwhile goal. Mistakes will happen. Miscommunication will happen. But with everyone's help and participation those kinds of problems can be minimal.

The Board promises to work for the Society and its members. We ask for your input and help so that the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc. serves the membership, the Crowns, all its officers, and all who come and play. There is no SCA without you.

Thank you,
Randall

There are a lot of people who support this event and without whose help, it wouldn't happen. First, thank you to all who traveled to this event, especially to Her Majesty, Aziza. For some people, it took many hours and dollars to attend this event. I truly appreciate your support. I also want to thank those who brought things to display as well as those who entered the competition. I would like to thank Lord Tore and Lady Sylvia, the talented autocrats of this event. They arranged for a wonderful site and LOTS of food. Thank you to the shire members who did the behind the scenes lifting, carrying, cooking, etc. Despite all the hard work, they were able to have an A & S display.

Thank you to the judges of this event (in no particular order) Duchess Berengaria, Duchess Jeanne D'Aussey, Sir Kragon of Lands End, Lord William of Chesterfield, Master Lambert du Sur, Mistress Kathryn of Iveragh, Mistress Beau Marishka, Mistress Monika von Zell, Master Stefan, Sir Jochen von Balduinseck, Mistress Sarah de Montgomerie, Mistress Kyriel of Windhover Cliff and Master Daffyd of Emmett. I also want to thank the judges of the written entries, Mistress Vivien au Caer Blaiddeau, Baroness Miranda, and the gentlewoman Rose.

Thank you to the scribes whose hard work resulted in the scrolls passed out to the first place category winners: A&S Champion - Lady Drahomira Jaroslavna, Visual Art - Mistress Monika von Zell, Functional Art - Lady Allegra Beati, Culinary Art - Mistress Joelle of Blue Lion's Keep, Models and Miniatures - Lady Maeve Aedhbh o'Duibhdabhoireann of Clan Tarf, Something New - THL Russell Jervis, Written Art - Morrigan di Winter, Fiber Art - Tatiana Pavlovna Sokolvna, and Performance Art - Lady Chala of Svathhini.

I would like to give my deepest appreciation to Duchess Jeanne D'Aussey and Master Lambert du Sur for graciously allowing me to travel with them to White Mountain and for the tour of their old stomping grounds. Also many more thanks to Master Lambert for the loan of his computer and his work in setting up the database and macros for keeping track of the competition results. And thank you Lady Helena! Without her, the word doesn't get out. She also let me stretch a couple of deadlines. What a gal!

I hope people came away from this event inspired. There was a wide variety of art on display - scrolls, stained glass, a woodcarved Nativity scene, Viking and Welsh gameboards, a pavilion, a Tudor room in miniature, an educational display on cotton processing, costumes, and lots more.

For next year, the collegium is set for the second weekend in March to be held in the south and the competition for the second weekend in October to be held in the north. For the collegium, the last two southern groups to host it were the College of St. Golias and the Shire of Drygestan; and for the competition, the last two northern groups to host it were Caerthe and Dragonsspine. I invite other groups to start thinking about bids for either event and to contact me about site requirements.

From the Seneschal

Baron Lambert de Sur

Greetings! Summer is drawing to an end and planning for winter events is underway. There have been a few changes to the event registration procedures, so I will review the process.

The Event Registration Form is printed nearly every month. Please use a recent form as there are periodic changes. It is permissible to submit a partially completed form early in the planning process to reserve a date, followed at the earliest possible date by a fully completed form. Please print clearly and include information such as zip codes and area codes. The forms must be signed by the local seneschal and by the Baron or Baroness in a barony; or by a second officer in other groups. Send one copy of the form to me and one copy, with the announcement if available, to the Kingdom Chronicler. Announcements need to be reviewed by the local seneschal for legalities, accuracy, and completeness.

Normally, I do not return signed copies of the event form to the local group. It is unnecessary as your confirmation is that the event appears in the next published Kingdom Calendar. If you so request, I will send verification that the form was received; please include a self-addressed, stamped post card or envelope along with your requests.

Please remember, if the concern over receipt of the form is caused by a late submission, the best way to ensure that your event will be official is to submit it early. My deadline for the Kingdom Calendar is about one week prior to the Kingdom Chronicler's deadline for OH submissions, which is now the first of the month.

Each group is allowed to have one event per month on the Kingdom Calendar and advertised in the Outlandish Herald. Other events may be held and will be listed in the Planning Calendar which is published quarterly. The announcements, however, will need to be published in local newsletters. If Event Forms for more than one event in a month are submitted, please indicate which one is to go on the Kingdom Calendar--otherwise I have to guess.

And just as a reminder and suggestion: In the past, it had been customary in the Outlands for groups hosting Kingdom events such as Crown Tournament and Coronation to return half the proceeds to the Kingdom. This is one of the few sources of income for the Kingdom; let's maintain the tradition.

In Service,
Lambert

From the Minister of the Lists

THL Kenneth Underwealf, called the Underwhelmed

Greetings! If your group is without a list officer and you would like to learn how you could fill this capacity for your group, please contact me and I will show you how easy it is to get started.

I am looking for a deputy! If you are interested, please send me a resume within the next thirty days at which time I will pick from the qualified applicants. The qualifications are as follows: Someone who has run lists in the past and would commit themselves to two years of service when I step down. This person must be able to travel to events in the Kingdom and must be able to run Crown Lists. Access to a PC to keep the authorization list is a must.

In Service to the Kingdom,

From the Chronicler

Lady Helena the Fortunate

Our 100th issue is complete! This writing is the last bit of typing I need to do before I send dear Herald off to print. Originally, it was my intention to use this page to write an article on 'How to write an Event Announcement.' Instead, I will sum up by noting two items, then continue on with the report of this office.

1. A large percentage of the event articles I received this month were incomplete (sigh), but 95% of them were on time, which is a BIG improvement–Thank you!

2. The following is all you need to make your articles complete. I'm always in favor of livening up an announcement with creative writing, but please, don't do it at the expense of the mandatory information: Autocrat's name (mundane and SCA) and full address (including phone number); Sponsoring group name; Event location and address (including written or mapped directions); Dates and times (when site opens/closes) of your event; And the statement "Make Checks Payable to: SCA–{Your Group}" if a fee is noted. That's it! Anything else you send is gravy, and your chronicler remains happy because she/he won't have to track you down for the correct information.

The (de facto) exception to the above: teaser articles that are sent months ahead of time. These may have a bit less information to keep them shorter. However, by the time the newsletter issue one month prior to your event, is published, you should have all of the complete information to the chronicler.

Next, I would like to remind everyone that this is the Month of the Chronicler in the Outlands. Please do make a special effort to work with your chronicler, give them a kind word, your support (and/or chocolate), and assist them wherever possible. I know many of you already do this, but maybe you could try something different, or even become a chronicler yourself ... which leads me nicely into the next topic–My Successor.

I don't have one. Well, not yet at least. I enjoy this job immensely, but the time is swiftly approaching when I'll need to turn over this office to another. Yet, I would like to have the time to work with the next chronicler, much as Mistress Ælflæd had worked with me. Please send me a letter of interest, or call me, if you have any questions concerning this office. I would like to begin working with a successor as soon as possible.

The Outlandish Herald has received many compliments from subscribers all over the Known World. One of the reasons for this is that we now have a good printer. And while he was the most reasonably priced of the eighteen printers I contacted in my area, the costs of printing and postage combined are still more than the corporate stipend covers. We spend, for 1,125 pieces, about $1,050 per month including printing and postage. The stipend gives us about $750 per month. It is possible that we could save between $75 and $100 per issue by going back to the xerox printing, yet even so we still would be short of meeting the corporate allotment and would need to depend on the generosity of your group and Kingdom funds to make up the difference. I hesitate to return to xerox, as the off-set printing we have now gives a cleaner final product. Also, there have been no complaints of pages half printed since we switched. But I leave this to you. Please write to me and let me know your thoughts on this, if you are interested.

I wish to thank all of the Chroniclers in the Outlands for their creative energy, patience, and continual hard work spent on the production of the local newsletters. You are a fine group of gentles and I am most honored to know and work with you. Lastly, I would like to thank Their Royal Majesties Artan IIII and Aziza, and my fellow Kingdom Officers, you have been of great assistance to this office as well as The Outlandish Herald. Your kind support has truly made a difference and I am ever thankful for it.

In Service to the Outlands,
Helena

From the Interkingdom Advisory Council

Master Roderick de Kane

Greetings fellow Outlanders! I send my thanks again to everyone who has already brought me their comments and suggestions on the Society's problems and direction. Unfortunately, I do not have much to report directly about the IAC. All but a few of the kingdoms have appointed their members, but we have yet to have our first meeting. The computer system which the IAC will be using to hold its electronic meetings has been broken.

The July Board of Directors meeting has now come and gone. Baron Lambert, our Kingdom Seneschal, has discussed some of what happened in his letter. Here are a few more points: Lee Forgue (Mistress Ellis O'Boirne from the West) and Ed Kreyling (Master Erik of Telemark from Trimaris) were appointed to the board. Another member will be appointed at the next meeting. This will finally bring us back to seven members. Also, the Board minutes will be published again, but in a different form. The old style minutes will be replaced with two different documents. The new minutes will contain only motions and other legally required information. There will also be a report of the meeting which will be a prose description. Both will be available as one subscription, probably beginning early next year. The report will come out several weeks after the meeting along with the minutes from the previous quarter.

The Board directed work begin on the Grand Council by requesting each kingdom appointing a member to the GC, as we did for the IAC. More members will be added later to bring the Council to the ultimate 30-40 members. The Grand Council will exist for about two years and will study what Society-wide changes may be necessary or desired.

The surcharge for non-members continues for now. It will be reviewed at the January meeting. Please send me your comments about why you do or don't think the surcharge should be retained.

In Service,
Roderick de Kane

From the Equestrian Guild

Carolyn Meinl

Greetings! Thanks to, as usual, the work of many volunteers, the Equestrian Guild of the Outlands has provided activities for two more events. The report from one is not available at this writing. However, the other was Caer Mithin Halle's Moonlight Tourney.

Two horses attended: Gitano, owned by Valerie of the Horse, and Coquetta, which is my steed. Bardings for the horses were provided by Lady Aithn'e Sionnach and Lady Talina the Gypsy. Those two and a few others also built equipment for playing the equestrian game of Saracen Heads. In addition we set up a playing field and gave lessons on how to play the game. Gitano, a large, professionally-trained warmblood-type, was provided for skilled riders, while Coquetta, a fiery but wonderfully safe mustang, was provided to the inexperienced for their lessons. A wonderful time was had by all, including the horses, who enjoy the attention and petting!

If you would like to recruit horses, game equipment, and instructors for your event, please contact the Equestrian Guild for assistance (see p. 38).

In Honour of our One Hundredth Issue, We Proudly Present...

The Hundred Years War

Lady Emma of Essex

Medieval History is full of wars, skirmishes and battles which never seem to truly end. The two armies simply go away until a new reason to fight has been established. Two such antagonists of Medieval History are France and England, and one such war was known as the Hundred Years War. This war, although not fought consistently for 100 years, did in fact, span parts of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries.

The Hundred Years War began officially in 1337 and lasted until 1453, when England was in the midst of a period of internal struggling, know as the Wars of the Roses. But this conflict between France and England seems to have its roots in the Norman invasion of England and would not be settled until England had lost nearly all of her possessions upon the European Continent.

As with many of the medieval wars, this war began with a question of succession. The French King, Philip IV (1285-1314) had died, and three other French kings followed him to the grave in rapid succession from 1314 through 1328 (Louis X {1314-1316}, Philip V {1316-1322}, and Charles IV {1322-1328}). Thus the French Dynasty of the Capets was gone and the question of succession was raised. Philip IV's daughter Isabella, was married to Edward II (1307-1327) and mother of Edward III (1327-1377), both of whom were Kings of England. It was Edward III who assertd the English claim to the French throne through his mother. It was the decision of the French nobility that royal power could not pass through the female line (a problem England would later struggle with), and they gave the throne to Philip VI (1328-1350). Thus began the Valois Dynasty of France. Edward III seemed to accept this decision, but much friction remained as the two powers fought over the boundaries of Aquitaine and other English and French territorial possessions.

Throughout the years of the war, the English would inconsistently follow a policy of antagonism with France, while France in turn, would work hard to bring the English possessions in France under their control. The first battle of this war was a naval battle, fought between Flanders and her English allies against the French. The battle at Sluys, won in 1340, marked the beginning of a renewed effort by the English to gain French territories on the continent.

The first great land victory came to England at the battle of Crecy on August 26, 1346. At this battle, the English longbowmen showed their superiority over the French forces and assisted in the English defeat of the French. After Calais was taken by the English the following year, a series of small skirmishes occurred throughout the French and English lands on the continent. It was during these skirmishes that the areas of Portugal, Castile, Scotland, and Ireland also became involved in the conflict. Portugal and Flanders even saw skirmishes being fought on their lands.

This first phase of the Hundred Years war was brought to a close in 1360 with the Treaty of Bretigny. This treaty saw Edward III giving up his claims to the French Throne and to Normandy, a highly contested area. England gained possession over Guyenne and Calais and they solidified their sovereignty over the remainder of their French possessions. After this, both England and France turned their eyes inward and looked to rebuild their forces and countries which had been devastated by these battles and by the Black Death, which was sweeping over Europe.

Philip VI was succeeded by his son, John II (1350-1364) who was succeeded by his son Charles V (1364-1380). Charles V was a great statesman who put forth great effort to reclaim the French lands in English hands. The English King, Edward III was succeeded by his son, Richard II (1377-1399) who was succeeded by Henry IV (of Lancaster) (1399-1413). By the accession of the English King, Henry V (1413-1422), England had lost most of her French possessions, retaining only three ports on the continent. In France, Charles V was succeeded by his son, Charles VI (1380-1422) and the war between the two great powers was again renewed.

It was Henry V who reasserted the English claim to the French throne, over the incompetent Charles VI. To assert these claims, Henry V invaded France once again. The decisive battle of this campaign was the Battle of Agincourt, fought on October 25, 1415. The French, who appeared to learn naught about war archery from their English brethren, were once again soundly defeated, due to the English longbow men.

With the Treaty of Troyes, May of 1420, Henry V was declared heir to the French throne, given the Regency of France, and marriage to the French Princess, Catherine. By 1422, both kings had died and it was left to Henry V's infant son, Henry VI (1421-1471) to assert the English claims in France. The English interests in France were continued by two of the Kings regents, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Bedford. The new French King, Charles VII was finally crowned in 1429 (after years of inactivity) after he was pushed into action by Joan of Arc, who was acting to protect her French homeland.

Once Charles VII was crowned in Reims, he was able to buy peace and return to restoring France and its finances. It was during this time that England was occupied with the Wars of the Roses. The English faced the same problems that France had earlier, with a mentally unstable monarch who was easily swayed by his advisors. A series of truces occurred and peace seemed possible until the 1450's. By 1453 all of the English possessions in France had been reclaimed by the French, with the exception of Calais. This port would remain in the hands of the English for the time being. This less than dramatic ending saw the period of conflict known as the Hundred Years War come to an end. Both England and France would continue looking inward, rebuilding their nations, monarchies, and struggling with the new ideas of statehood and religions that were on the verge of sweeping over Europe.

In Memory

Stephen William Carroll, known in the Society as Baron William de Vallier, died on Friday, July 22, 1994, at St. Joseph Medical Center in Albuquerque. The cause of death was a stroke brought on by chronic illness.

He was born in 1961 in Alamogordo, New Mexico. He graduated from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque in 1983 with a Bachelor's degree in chemistry, and moved to Carlsbad to work at the IMC potash mine as a quality control analyst. In 1994, he earned an Associate's degree in radioactive and hazardous materials technology from New Mexico State University. He is survived by his parents, Don and Rosemarie Carroll, his grandmother, his brother, David, of Alamogordo, and numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Baron William joined the Society for Creative Anachronism in 1983. He earned an Award of Arms in 1986, was created a companion of the Trefoil in 1991, a baron of the court and a companion of the Stag's Blood in 1994. Baron William was squire to His Royal Majesty, Artan IIII. He has borne the Queen's Rapier of Chivalry and the Caer Mithin Halle Flower of Chivalry, several times won the title of Sentinel of Blacklake, several times served on the King's and Queen's Royal Guards and the Eastern Border Guard, and wore the Guido of al-Barran. He was a member of the Drunken Archers Household and was adopted "Little Brother" by the Amazon Household.

A wake was held July 27th and the funeral on July 28th in Alamogordo. A wake was also held at the Moonlight event near Carlsbad on July 23rd. Sympathies may be sent to Don and Rosemarie Carroll, 1515 Arizona Avenue, Alamogordo, NM. At their request, send no flowers or plants. Donations may be made in Stephen's name to the Aplastic Anemia Foundation, P.O. Box 22689, Baltimore, MD 21203, or to the St. Joseph Healthcare Foundation, P.O. Box 25555, Albuquerque, NM 87125. They have donated Baron William's fencing equipment to Caer Mithin Halle to be used in initating and training new members.

Crimthann Dail Chais

William's Irish Cream

1 1/3 cup of your favorite liquor. Smooth Irish whiskey would be appropriate.
1 (14oz.) can of Eagle brand condensed milk.
1 cup of whipping cream.
4 eggs.
2 tablespoons of chocolate syrup.
1 teaspoon of vanilla extract.
1/2 teaspoon of almond extract.
2 teaspoons of instant coffee. The Irish Cream flavor works nicely.

Blend the ingredients together until smooth. Store tightly covered, and keep refrigerated. Stir or shake before serving.

...Then raise your cup to the Good Baron William!

These statistics are compiled by Jarl Gunwaldt Gulbjorn.

The kingdom group counts are based on the geographical divisions of the kingdoms. The local group counts are based on my knowledge of each group's boundaries and the growth of the Outlands. As each group petitions for official status, its lands may or may not be explicitly stated in mundane terms (modern boundaries or zip codes). Some divisions are very traditional in nature and others are obvious from the geographical surroundings. The homesteaders are those addresses which fall outside reasonable distances to any group center.
